

Environmental Consulting Services ~Seeking Sustainable Solutions~

Environment: Driving Forces

In this era of globalization, there is growing pressure for organizations to demonstrate that activities worldwide are conducted in an environmentally and socially responsible manner. The environmental agenda for manufacturers, investors and developers is not limited to pollution prevention and risk management but must take into consideration fast developing regulations as well as market pressures for performance transparency and extended responsibility.

The Bovis Lend Lease environmental consulting group supports clients in keeping pace with these diverse changes, in understanding and managing environmental risk and ultimately developing sustainable solutions.

Our environmental consulting team operates out of core offices in Tokyo, Sydney, Singapore and Shanghai. Our professionals come from local and international backgrounds, have a wide range of multidisciplinary skills and extensive experience in providing environmental solutions to private or public organizations, from manufacturers to investors, multinational or domestic.
