Located on the prestigious JenAi Road corridor in Taipei, the project is home to the newly formed Fubon Bank, one of the largest financial institutions in Taiwan. A world-class project by an international team, the project of 470,000 sq. ft. is 24 stories above grade and 6 levels below grade. Due to schedule demands and to assure public safety, a top-down method of foundation installation was incorporated. The exterior wall includes a state-of-the-art pressure-equalized unitized curtainwall system resistant to high wind loads and a corrosive atmosphere. The building's environment is controlled with a sophisticated building automation system. Security systems were designed to be both effective yet unobstructive to the building's tenants and patrons.
